

Catalina

Pontiac's lowest priced full-sized car.

The 1973 Catalina's your first step up to the comfort and prestige of a full-sized Pontiac. And there are plenty of rock-solid reasons why you should take that step.

Catalina's styling is important. We're talking about styling that does more than look nice. Like Catalina's new improved front bumper system.

There's a new rear bumper, too. Because there's a lot of value inside Catalina worth protecting.

The big, comfortable interior can be done up in two new fabrics. The fine furniture cloth shown far right. Or the available leather-like Morrokide near right. Both are easy to maintain. Both are handsome.

Unfortunately, you'll never see some of Catalina's most beautiful features. We simply can't show you a heavy-gauge steel frame that helps us tune the ride. Improved body mounts to help keep Catalina's new car ride longer. Improved acoustical insulation. Power front disc brakes. A cleaner running 350 V-8. They're all standard.

So is variable-ratio power steering. And Turbo Hydra-matic.

Knowing we put all that in our lowest priced full-sized car should help you understand Pontiac's way with cars. It should also help you understand why Catalina's our most popular Pontiac.
