The 2021 Ford F-150 is purpose-built to be the toughest, most productive F-150 ever and Shelby takes the truck to the next level. The all-new 2020 Shelby F-150 delivers the rugged capabilities needed for outdoor adventure and every bit of the sophistication for a night on the town Standing tall, the Shelby F-150 is built to move with confidence over most any terrain with 395 horsepower and an optional supercharger boosts the V8 engine to 775* horsepower.

With the Shelby F-150 suspension, all that power gets to the ground, whatever and wherever that happens to be. Inside, the truck has two-toned leather seat covers with Shelby emblems, the official Shelby serial number and Shelby floor mats. Each truck has a completely new Shelby engineered front end that includes a functional ram-air style hood, complementing the air managed grill and bumper cladding. A limited number of these trucks will be built for the US with some additional units exported outside the country. For more information and to order a Shelby F-150, visit www.Shelby.com today.
